“ Destinee Palazzolo lit a candle in memory of Harold F. Capion

“ When I walked into work and saw Harold’s picture by the candles, I broke down. When I passed his door without his Danish flag, I cried for 10 minutes straight on the spot.

Harold was a death at Cambrian that effected ALL of us; a rare soul who touched everyone he met. He always thanked us, he’d say “I wish there was something more I could do for you girls!” And we’d say “Harold, you’re more than enough.” The last time I went in his room and greeted him “hey, handsome!” I felt a part of me pass inside - Harold was like a grandfather to me, and it was a sincere honour and privilege to be able to care for your beloved family member. I stayed in his room Wednesday night for an extended time holding his hand and praying over him. It is my, and all our our, greatest hope that the final years he had here were as filled with love and compassion as he reflected unto us. I will never forget Harold, and neither will my coworkers. I loved him dearly, we all did, may his soul have the greatest peace, “come home and I will throw the biggest party Heaven has ever seen.” My heart is with you all, and thank you, one final time, for giving us the honour of knowing your beloved Harold. He was a true angel and sunshine in our lives, it’s hard to believe his golden, hard-working heart is now at its well-deserved peace..

Long life The Great Dane.

“ Memories of Harold Capion: Harold was a very kind and giving gentleman. In the late 1980's he and Jim Bloker would visit my mother and father, Marvin and Louise Dixon. Harold and Jim would take my father out to lunch. My father was an amputee and could not drive. After my parents passed away, I continued to communicate with Harold. I shared my travels with him via post cards. He sent holiday greetings. It was always a joy to see his beautiful penmanship on the envelope, and the greeting inside the card.

I took my collie dog, Kilts, with me, on my last visit to see Harold.

Thank you Philip and family for sharing your dad with my family and I.

God be with you,

Judy Dixon Kirkeby
